SECRETARY CHRIS HEEN OF OSAKIS ADDRESSES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ON MEETING
200 DELEGATES EXPECTED, 300
EXHIBITS OF BUTTER AND CHEESE TO BE MADE

The Minnesota State Dairymen's Association, accepting the invitation addressed them by President F. H. Gruenhagen of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, when they met in Wadena this year, has through its board meeting held recently, decided to hold the 48th annual convention of their association in Brainerd on Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday, January 19, 20 and 21, of 1926.

Secretary Chris Heen of Osakis and Treasurer J. M. Jack of Northfield addressed the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening and explained the extent of the convention, which is really one of the most important to be held in Brainerd and will be of inestimable value to Brainerd and Crow Wing county and Central Minnesota in setting forth the advantages of dairying, and in bringing here men versed in this branch, to discuss subjects of profit to all attending.

"We expect to have in Brainerd from 150 to 200 delegates and are also anxious to draw a large local attendance," said Secretary Heen. "Our program is like an old fashioned farmers' institute and we consider the subjects of dairying, care and breeding of livestock and kindred topics. The convention is well advertised throughout Minnesota and the Northwest and we have already given Brainerd much mention as the coming convention city."

"Eastern trade and dairy papers give our convention publicity. I see that our programs are well distributed. We have already mapped out a tentative program and will be glad to co-operate with your local committees to perfect the same. Our speakers are men standing high in their professions. One of them will be Mr. Byerly of the Northern Pacific railway company."

"We give prizes on butter and cheese exhibited. From 200 to 300 tubs of butter are usually exhibited. The tubs hold 20 pound samples."

"The butter arrives a week or ten days previous to the convention. Our butter clerk comes up and the committee scores the butter. The standings and the prize winners are announced at the convention. The Minnesota State Dairymen's Association strives to reach all the farmers and works constantly to improve dairying conditions."

Con O'Brien offered storage room for the butter, which was promptly accepted by Secretary Heen. As one of the features of entertainment will be a cafeteria luncheon, Mr. O'Brien also donated all the coffee and bread required for the same. Chamber of Commerce rooms were proffered for convention use. County Commissioner Lowey offered all co-operation possible.

Dr. A. K. Cohen offered the use of Elks hall for the luncheon, which was accepted. So much co-operation was shown on all sides that Mr. Heen and Mr. Jack are assured the coming convention at Brainerd will be one of the best held in the history of the association.

The proceedings are published in book form and are well worthy of study. They contain the addresses, all well worthy of preservation, as they take up conditions in the dairying country and offer expert advice. A membership in the Minnesota State Dairymen's Association is only $1, and carries with the membership badge, the book of proceedings and other privileges.

The Chamber decided to make the three convention days, January 19, 20 and 21 big farmer days in Brainerd. Everything possible will be done to show the convention and visitors that Brainerd entertains the highest regard for the farmer and dairy industry. An exposition of farm and dairy machinery may also be staged.

Next day in company with President F. H. Gruenhagen and other Chamber members, Messrs. Heen and Jack visited County Agricultural Agent E. G. Roth and other county officers and commissioners and secured further co-operation in regard to the coming convention.

RECORDED

Washington, Oct. 29.—(UP)—The United States government has instructed Ambassador Herrick at Paris to make representations to the French government relative to affording protection to American lives and property in Damascus and other Syrian cities.

Made uneasy by the continuous disturbances in the Levant, where French troops and Druse tribesmen have been at grips for some weeks culminating in the bombardment of Damascus, the state department took positive steps of calling to the French government's attention its responsibilities toward foreigners domiciled in that region.

The United States destroyers Coghlan and Lanson have arrived at Alexandria, Egypt, where they are maintained in readiness to proceed to the Syrian coast to assist Americans, of whom there are reported to be about 1,000 in the region.

Official indications were given at other departments of the government that reparations for such damage as may have been inflicted on American property might be asked of France.

The decision to approach the French government followed receipt by the state department of official advices from J. H. Keely, American consul at Damascus relating in detail the bombardment of the city, the parading of dead Moslem tribesmen, strapped on backs of camels through the streets at the instance of the French command, and other features of the attack on the city.

The British consul at Damascus has presented claims against France for damage to the property of British subjects in the recent French bombardment of the city.

Dispatches yesterday charged that the French warned their own citizens to evacuate the city but left other foreigners without advices of the impending action.

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Two men were killed and a third critically injured here today when the automobile in which they were riding plunged through a guard rail and into a street car tunnel.

The dead were Frank Meyers, 28, and Walter Cavanaugh.

Joseph Hathaway was injured. After skidding through the railing, the automobile dropped 20 feet to the tracks entering the tunnel. It turned a somersault on the way down and burst into flames upon alighting with the occupants pinned.

Police, rushed to the scene, succeeded in extricating Hathaway alive. Cavanaugh, the driver, was dead when help arrived. Meyers died while attempts were being made to free him.

ARMY STARTS
OFFENSIVE AGAINST
COL. MITCHELL

TAKES TO TASK THE FIERY
AIR SERVICE
CRITIC

MILITARY TRADITION AND LAW
MUST BE UP-
HELD

BY WILLIAM J. McEVROY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Army prosecutors of Colonel William Mitchell today took the offensive against the fiery air service critic.

Court convened for the second day of the Mitchell court martial at 10 A. M. Col. Sherman Moreland, judge advocate, immediately launched his attack on the free speech issue raised by the Mitchell defensive yesterday.

"The status of a man is changed," Moreland declared, "When he enters the military service. He changes from a civilian status to a military status and that change carries with it considerable consequence."

"It will only take me a moment," he said, "to expose the fallacies underlying the arguments of the accused's special counsel. He overlooked the element that a soldier enters into an enlistment contract."

The personnel of the army, Moreland said, must abide by military tradition and law that is laid down upon it.

"If there is a deviation from this the army of the United States would be left to rot on its own soil," he declared.

Reid answered Moreland briefly, declaring his argument lacked facts. "Colonel Moreland bases his whole argument on tradition," he said. "How could anybody ever be convicted on tradition?"

"I maintain there is no law, statute or common law, to cover the question we have here. The prosecution has failed to cite any law. Nobody has ever stated and no law states that this is a crime."

"If you people can say that this is a crime and this is a law and this fellow and that fellow can be punished, then some change must come."

The court then retired from the room to deliberate on the challenge of jurisdiction made by the Mitchell defense. While the court was out Mrs. Mitchell and her father looked at the news pictures taken yesterday.

Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Young, her sister, walked over and talked with a number of officers' wives among the spectators. Reid and Mitchell began an earnest conversation while the rets of the defense stood over a table and discussed the case.

When the court completed its rulings, Representative Reid, chief counsel for Mitchell, immediately entered a motion to strike out all the charges and specifications against Mitchell, being, in effect, a motion to quash the whole proceedings.

Reid continued his argument, however. The charges that Mitchell made in his Texas statements were not properly investigated by the war department, he asserted, declaring that the department also preferred the charges in direct contradiction of army procedure.

"The rules of the army require that charges made by any man should be investigated," he said. "No investigation was made of the truth or falsity of Mitchell's charges."

Reid then went on to challenge the wording of the specifications. He attacked certain phrases and the omission of others in an effort to set aside the proceedings. He assailed the 96th article of war, under which Mitchell is being tried as covering "disorders and neglects."

"How can an attack on the war department which is separated from the army, affect army discipline?" Reid asked. "How can an attack on the navy affect army discipline? You might just as well say that Mitchell's statement affects the ruling of the agriculture department or any other department."

Reid also attacked the procedure of Mitchell's arraignment, declaring that either General Ernest Hinds, commander of the Eighth Corps Area, or General Rockenbach, commander of the Washington district, should have investigated the charges by Mitchell and recommended the trial.

"Neither one of these officers acted in the capacity that military law requires in a case like this and the proceedings here are irregular under military law," said Reid.

"Where does this strange power come from? When and where does the president or the secretary of war get authority to call this court martial when Mitchell's commanding officer has not recommended it?"

During the legal discussion by the defense and prosecution, Mitchell slouched in his chair, seeming both Continued on page 5

SIX MIDDLE

IN CONFERENCE

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 29.—(UP)—Six middle western state governors got down to a discussion of common problems here today, following preliminary sessions yesterday and a banquet last night. The state executives assembled on invitation of Governor Carl Gunderson, South Dakota.

Those attending are Governors Christianson, Minnesota; Sorlie, North Dakota; Baker, Missouri; McMullen, Nebraska; Governors Paul, Kansas, and Erickson, Montana, are expected today.

Agricultural questions were discussed at the opening meeting. Congressional action to control surplus agricultural production was favored. Governor McMullen advocated development of irrigation.

GREECE ORDERED EVACUATION

TACKED WITHDRAWAL

BY ANTHONY PAPYANNAKIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Athens, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Greek troops are again on their home soil. Following out both the agreement made with Rumania as mediator and the orders of the League of Nations council, Greece has completed the withdrawal of her forces from Bulgaria.

The withdrawal was finished at 8 A. M. today well within the time limit set by the council at Paris on Monday, when it required that Greece and Bulgaria should notify the council on Thursday that invasion of foreign territory by either or both parties had ended definitely.

With completing of the evacuation the threat of real hostilities in the Balkans seemed past. Greece felt she had shown her loyalty in the matter when yesterday she re-ordered evacuation even after Bulgars attacked her withdrawing forces.

There still remains the fixing of responsibility for the border trouble by the league council, but all advices coming out of Europe tend to indicate that the council's intervention has proven efficacious and that the war danger has been curbed.

There is of course, the possibility that the fixation of responsibility will cause new difficulties but both Bulgaria and Greece agreed in advance to abide by the council's findings and it is unlikely that either will venture now to incur league displeasure by running counter to the spirit of the final findings.

OF BULLETS OF OFFICERS

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Police cordons were formed on Chicago's South Side today in an effort to corner Martin J. Durkin, who shot his way out of a trap last night and escaped.

Durkin who was originally wanted for the transportation of a stolen automobile from California to Chicago, shot and killed Edward C. Shanahan, a department of justice agent, 19 days ago. Search for the killer spread from coast to coast but finally authorities learned he was in hiding here.

Two officers cornered him last night in the apartment of his sweetheart, Mrs. Betty Werner, but he engaged them in a gun battle, wounded one of them and again escaped unharmed. An uncle of Mrs. Werner, Lloyd Austin, was killed by a stray bullet in the fight.

Failure of the officers to wound Durkin was caused largely by his sweetheart, who flung herself in front of the police revolvers and grappled with one of the bluecoats.

Every police officer on the South Side today was ordered to shoot to kill if Durkin is sighted.

THE DEATH BED
STATEMENT OF
GIRL IN EVIDENCE

IS STATE'S MOST IMPORTANT
TESTIMONY IN MADGE OBER-
HOLTZER CASE

TO BE USED TO CONVICT MEN
CHARGED WITH MURDER

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 29.—(UP)—The death bed statement of Miss Madge Oberholzer will be the state's most important piece of evidence in its attempt to convict D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry of her murder.

This was revealed in the opening statement today of Charles E. Cox, special assistant prosecutor. Stephenson was formerly Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana.

"The principal witness for the state will be Madge Oberholzer, the dead victim of the foulest murder in the history of Indiana," Cox said.

"Madge Oberholzer, standing by the very edge of her grave, will tell you as far as possible under the circumstances the story of her being drugged, kidnaped, assaulted and ravished."

"Her story will tell you how she was forced by the loss of all which women hold most dear to take the deadly poison which contributed to her untimely and cruel death."

He reviewed the story of Miss Oberholzer's alleged abduction, as told in her death bed statement and launched into an attack on the character of Stephenson.

"The evidence will show that Stephenson had a double personality," Cox said. "One side of him will show a magnetic, cultured leader of men. The other side will show him a drunkard and a persistent seducer and destroyer of women's chastity."

Stephenson's palatial home in Irvington, a suburb of Indianapolis, was at times the scene of "lascivious, drinking debauches," Cox said. "To this house, upon occasion, young girls and women were lured to be entrapped and debauched" Cox asserted.

At other times, Cox said, the Stephenson home was the scene of gatherings of people high in the affairs of the city and state.

Cox's scathing denunciation of the former Klan leader brought a storm of protest from Ira Holmes, one of the defense attorneys.

Judge Sparks ordered that reference to Stephenson being a drunkard and seducing women be kept out of the records.

George Oberholzer and his wife, parents of the dead girl, were in the court room early. Oberholzer sat with lowered head and tears coursed down his cheeks as Cox referred to Miss Oberholzer's death bed statement. He wiped the tears away with a clenched fist.

Dressed in black and with head bowed, Mrs. George Oberholzer, mother of Madge Oberholzer, took the stand as the first witness for the state.

In a voice so low it could hardly be heard she told of her daughter receiving a telephone call to go to Stephenson's home on a business matter on the night of March 15.

Two days later Miss Oberholzer was returned home, slowly dying from bichloride of mercury taken after an alleged attack by Stephenson.

Mrs. Oberholzer told of ragged wounds on her daughter's body and deep bruises on her face.

The creaking of a chair was the only sound breaking the stillness of the court room as she related her daughter's condition.

The mother of the girl was placed on the stand immediately after Charles Cox, special assistant prosecutor, had completed the opening statement for the prosecution.

Women spectators leaned forward in their seats as Cox described the alleged attack on Miss Oberholzer in a Pullman car enroute from Indianapolis to Hammond.

"We will show that these fiends shut up in a drawing room with the defenseless girl wounded her from her cheeks to her ankles until the blood flowed," he shouted. "We will show that these marks inflicted on Madge Oberholzer by these fiends became infected and caused blood poison in their victim."

An examination of Miss Oberholzer, Cox said, showed she had been assaulted.

Mrs. Eunice Schultz, a roomer at the Oberholzer home, identified Klenck as the man who carried the girl into the Oberholzer house after the return from Hammond.

"I was in the kitchen preparing a lunch and heard a terrible groaning at the front door," she said. "That man there brought Madge in."

At this point she pointed her finger at Klenck sitting with the other defendants.

"The man told me his name was Johnson and that he came from Kokomo," Mrs. Schultz continued. "I

NEW PAINLEVE
CABINET HAS BEEN FORMED

REPLACES OLD FRENCH REGIME
AND FINANCE MINISTER
CAILLAUX

THE OFFICIAL CABINET LIST IS MADE PUBLIC
TODAY

BY A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Oct. 29.—(UP)—A new Painleve cabinet was formed today. Working almost until dawn then snatching a brief rest and starting on his cabinet formation work again this morning Paul Painleve succeeded in forming a cabinet to replace the old Painleve regime which resigned Tuesday in order to shake off Finance Minister Caillaux.

In the new cabinet Painleve is premier and finance minister. Upon him now devolves the task in which the picturesque Caillaux failed, restoration of France's finances to a state of clarity and health.

Supporting him as before is Aristide Briand in the foreign ministry. The official cabinet list follows:

Paul Painleve, premier and minister of finance.

Aristide Briand, foreign affairs.

Paul Daurat, labor.

Yvon Delbois, instruction.

Chaumets, justice.

Daladier, war.

Abraham Schrameck, interior.

Jean Durand, agriculture.

Emile Borel, navy.

Pleier, colonies.

Anerio, pensions.

Daniel Vincent, commerce.

Anatole De Monzie, public works.

Bonnet, budget.

Painleve abandoned an earlier thought of again assuming the war ministry post, which he held in his first cabinet. This went, however, to M. Edouard Daladier who held office in the Herriot regime as colonial minister. Painleve also drew from the Herriot ranks when he took M. Camille Chautemps as justice minister. He had served earlier as interior minister.

The personnel changes mean little. But the policy change that goes with formation of the new cabinet is important. The old cabinet went to rid itself of Caillaux, who fought against the capital levy as a means of righting French finances. This was demanded by the groups upon which the new cabinet relies for support, but it is generally admitted that Painleve must show prime statesmanship if he steers his new grouping through the parliamentary pitfalls.

It is almost certain that Painleve will be forced to advocate a tax on agriculture, a capital levy and he probably will not be able to avoid further inflation. All of these policies are dangerous insofar as the life of the cabinet is concerned. It may fall as a result of the combination of these plans, though politicians so far have not passed any "death sentence" upon the new cabinet.

went to Madge's room and she was lying on the bed.

"She told me twice that she was dying and seemed in terrible pain. She was in a deplorable condition, with bruises all over her cheeks, body and legs."

Whenever Gentry's name was mentioned in the testimony he sat upright and rigid in his chair. Klenck remained expressionless as a statue. Stephenson was paler than usual and kept his head lowered making a pretense of taking notes. He carefully avoided catching the glance of the parents of Miss Oberholzer.

FORTUNES MADE

PRODUCING AREA

UNSEASONABLE COLD WEATHER
AND SHORT CROP SHOOTS
UP PRICES

FARMERS AND DEALERS WHO
STORED CROPS ARE REAPING
SILVER HARVEST

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—(UP)—King spud has been enthroned again in the northwest.

Fortunes are being made and lost in the potato producing country of Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Dakotas.

Unseasonable cold weather on top of a short crop shot prices up more than a cent a pound wholesale in the last two weeks. Farmers and dealers who stored or buried their crop are reaping a silver harvest, while others who left them in the ground too long lost all with the freeze.

A year ago Red River Valley farmers took 35 to 40 cents a hundred pounds for their potatoes—or let them rot. Today they are getting up to $3.25 a hundred pounds for their crop.

Dealers who bought at $1.25 when potatoes were still in the field last July are now collecting $3.50 to $3.75 a hundred for them in the big city markets. Thousands of bushels are being sold daily in the big markets by dealers who figure their present margins are safer than further speculation.

A light acreage and a light yield put high prices in prospect early in the fall. Then winter arrived a month ahead of time and prices shot upwards.

H. C. Posselt, acting manager of the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange, which handles about half of the Minnesota crop, said today that growers themselves are reaping most of the benefit from the high market.

WAR ENDED FOR
THE TIME BEING

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISION CLOSING STATE OWNED FILLING STATIONS

OIL WAR ARMISTICE EFFECTIVE UNTIL NEXT LEGISLATURE

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 29.—(UP)—The South Dakota gasoline war is at least temporarily ended today. Decision of the state supreme court yesterday, declaring illegal the appropriation of highway funds to carry on the business, closed state-owned filling stations and halted operations on additional facilities under construction.

There was talk around the capital of a special session of the legislature to make specific appropriations for carrying on the fight but such action was generally considered improbable. Governor Carl Gunderson is temporarily occupied as host to a conference of state executives in Sioux Falls.

The oil war armistice will probably be effective until the next regular session of the legislature. A fight is expected then for an appropriation measure to resume the state-conducted gasoline business. By the ruling of the state supreme court a specific appropriation is necessary. Diversion of highway funds for the purpose was declared unconstitutional.

Seven filling stations were ordered to discontinue sale of gasoline and lubricants immediately. Work on five new stations must be stopped. It is estimated the state has spent $16,000 of the $100,000 authorized for maintenance of the stations and added construction.

Highway Department
Plans to Keep Open
Many State Highways

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—(UP)—The Minnesota highway department has made preparations to keep more highways free from snow this winter than ever before. It was announced today.

More than 250 miles of snow fences have been placed by the state, in addition to snow fences and barriers placed by private transportation companies and individuals. The highway department will control all work on the highways this winter, it was stated, and will supervise the volunteer work of transportation

"The status of a man is changed," Moreland declared, "When he enters the military service. He changes from a civilian status to a military status and that change carries with it considerable consequence.

"It will only take me a moment," he said, "to expose the fallacies underlying the arguments of the accused's special counsel. He overlooked the element that a soldier enters into an enlistment contract."

The personnel of the army, Moreland said, must abide by military tradition and law that is laid down upon it.

"If there is a deviation from this the army of the United States would be left to rot on its own soil," he declared.

Reid answered Moreland briefly, declaring his argument lacked facts. "Colonel Moreland bases his whole argument on tradition," he said. "How could anybody ever be convicted on tradition?"

"I maintain there is no law, statute or common law, to cover the question we have here. The prosecution has failed to cite any law. Nobody has ever stated and no law states that this is a crime.

"If you people can say that this is a crime and this is a law and this fellow and that fellow can be punished, then some change must come."

The court then retired from the room to deliberate on the challenge of jurisdiction made by the Mitchell defense. While the court was out Mrs. Mitchell and her father looked at the news pictures taken yesterday.

Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Young, her sister, walked over and talked with a number of officers' wives among the spectators. Reid and Mitchell began an earnest conversation while the rest of the defense stood over a table and discussed the case.

When the court completed its rulings, Representative Reid, chief counsel for Mitchell, immediately entered a motion to strike out all the charges and specifications against Mitchell, being, in effect, a motion to quash the whole proceedings.

Reid continued his argument, however. The charges against Mitchell made in his Texas statements were not properly investigated by the war department, he asserted, declaring that the department also preferred the charges in direct contradiction of army procedure.

"The rules of the army require that charges made by any man should be investigated," he said. "No investigation was made of the truth or falsity of Mitchell's charges."

Reid then went on to challenge the wording of the specifications. He attacked certain phrases and the omission of others in an effort to set aside the proceedings. He assailed the 95th article of war, under which Mitchell is being tried as covering "disorders and neglects."

"How can an attack on the war department which is separated from the army, affect army discipline?" Reid asked. "How can an attack on the navy affect army discipline? You might just as well say that Mitchell's statement affects the ruling of the agriculture department or any other department."

Reid also attacked the procedure of Mitchell's arraignment, declaring that either General Ernest Hinds, commander of the Eighth Corps Area, or General Rockenbach, commander of the Washington district, should have investigated the charges by Mitchell and recommended the trial.

Neither one of these officers acted in the capacity that military law requires in a case like this and the proceedings here are irregular under military law," said Reid.

"Where does this strange power come from? When and where does the president or the secretary of war get authority to call this court martial when Mitchell's commanding officer has not recommended it?"

During the legal discussion by the defense and prosecution, Mitchell slouched in his chair, seeming both Continued on page 5

SIX MIDDLE
WESTERN STATES
IN CONFERENCE

Sioux Falls, S. D., Oct. 29.—(UP)—Six middle western state governors got down to a discussion of common problems here today, following preliminary sessions yesterday and a banquet last night. The state executives assembled on invitation of Governor Carl Gunderson, South Dakota.

Those attending are Governors Christianson, Minnesota; Sorlie, North Dakota; Baker, Missouri; McMullen, Nebraska; Governors Paul, Kansas, and Erickson, Montana, are expected today.

Agricultural questions were discussed at the opening meeting. Congressional action to control surplus agricultural production was favored. Governor McMullen advocated development of irrigation.

FOLLOWED OUT AGREEMENT WITH RUMANIA AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS COUNCIL

GREECE ORDERED EVACUATION
EVEN AFTER BULGARS AT-TACKED WITHDRAWAL

BY ANTHONY PAPYANNAKIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Athens, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Greek troops are again on their home soil. Following out both the agreement made with Rumania as mediator and the orders of the League of Nations council, Greece has completed the withdrawal of her forces from Bulgaria.

The withdrawal was finished at 8 A. M. today well within the time limit set by the council at Paris on Monday, when it required that Greece and Bulgaria should notify the council on Thursday that invasion of foreign territory by either or both parties had ended definitely.

With completing of the evacuation the threat of real hostilities in the Balkans seemed past. Greece felt she had shown her loyalty in the matter when yesterday she re-ordered evacuation even after Bulgars attacked her withdrawing forces.

There still remains the fixing of responsibility for the border trouble by the league council, but all advice coming out of Europe tend to indicate that the council's intervention has proven efficacious and that the war danger has been curbed.

There is of course, the possibility that the fixation of responsibility will cause new difficulties but both Bulgaria and Greece agreed in advance to abide by the council's findings and it is unlikely that either will venture now to incur league displeasure by running counter to the spirit of the final findings.

SHOOT'S WAY

POLICE CORDON

MARTIN J. DURKIN'S SWEET-HEART FLINGS SELF BE-FORE OFFICERS

SHIELDS HIS BODY FROM HAIL
OF BULLETS OF
OFFICERS

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Police cordons were formed on Chicago's South Side today in an effort to corner Martin J. Durkin, who shot his way out of a trap last night and escaped.

Durkin who was originally wanted for the transportation of a stolen automobile from California to Chicago, shot and killed Edward C. Shanahan, a department of justice agent, 10 days ago. Search for the killer spread from coast to coast but finally authorities learned he was in hiding here.

Two officers cornered him last night in the apartment of his sweetheart, Mrs. Betty Werner, but he engaged them in a gun battle, wounded one of them and again escaped unharmd. An uncle of Mrs. Werner, Lloyd Austin, was killed by a stray bullet in the fight.

Failure of the officers to wound Durkin was caused largely by his sweetheart, who flung herself in front of the police revolvers and grappled with one of the bluecoats.

Every police officer on the South Side today was ordered to shoot to kill if Durkin is sighted.

THE DEATH BED
STATEMENT OF
GIRL IN EVIDENCE

IS STATE'S MOST IMPORTANT
TESTIMONY IN MADGE OBER-
HOLTZER CASE

TO BE USED TO CONVICT MEN
CHARGED WITH MURDER

Noblesville, Ind., Oct. 29.—(UP)—The death bed statement of Miss Madge Oberholtzer will be the state's most important piece of evidence in its attempt to convict D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry of her murder.

This was revealed in the opening statement today of Charles E. Cox, special assistant prosecutor. Stephenson was formerly Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana.

"The principal witness for the state will be Madge Oberholtzer, the dead victim of the foulest murder in the history of Indiana," Cox said.

"Madge Oberholtzer, standing by the very edge of her grave, will tell you as far as possible under the circumstances the story of her being drugged, kidnaped, assaulted and ravished."

Her story will tell you how she was forced by the loss of all which women hold most dear to take the deadly poison which contributed to her untimely and cruel death."

He reviewed the story of Miss Oberholtzer's alleged abduction, as told in her death bed statement and launched into an attack on the character of Stephenson.

"The evidence will show that Stephenson had a double personality," Cox said. "One side of him will show a magnetic, cultured leader of men. The other side will show him a drunkard and a persistent seducer and destroyer of women's chastity."

Stephenson's palatial home in Irvington, a suburb of Indianapolis, was at times the scene of "lascivious, drinking debauches," Cox said. "To this house, upon occasion, young girls and women were lured to be entrapped and debauched," Cox asserted.

At other times, Cox said, the Stephenson home was the scene of gatherings of people high in the affairs of the city and state.

Cox's scathing denunciation of the former Klan leader brought a storm of protest from Ira Holmes, one of the defense attorneys.

Judge Sparks ordered that reference to Stephenson being a drunkard and seducing women be kept out of the records.

George Oberholtzer and his wife, parents of the dead girl, were in the court room early. Oberholtzer sat with lowered head and tears coursed down his cheeks as Cox referred to Miss Oberholtzer's death bed statement. He wiped the tears away with a clenched fist.

Dressed in black and with head bowed, Mrs. George Oberholtzer, mother of Madge Oberholtzer, took the stand as the first witness for the state.

In a voice so low it could hardly be heard she told of her daughter receiving a telephone call to go to Stephenson's home on a business matter on the night of March 15.

Two days later Miss Oberholtzer was returned home, slowly dying from bichloride of mercury taken after an alleged attack by Stephenson.

Mrs. Oberholtzer told of ragged wounds on her daughter's body and deep bruises on her face.

The creaking of a chair was the only sound breaking the stillness of the court room as she related her daughter's condition.

The mother of the girl was placed on the stand immediately after Charles Cox, special assistant prosecutor, had completed the opening statement for the prosecution.

Women spectators leaned forward in their seats as Cox described the alleged attack on Miss Oberholtzer in a Pullman car enroute from Indianapolis to Hammond.

"We will show that these fiends shut up in a drawing room with the defenseless girl wounded her from her cheeks to her ankles until the blood flowed," he shouted. "We will show that these marks inflicted on Madge Oberholtzer by these fiends became infected and caused blood poison in their victim."

An examination of Miss Oberholtzer, Cox said, showed she had been assaulted.

Mrs. Eunice Schultz, a roomer at the Oberholtzer home, identified Klenck as the man who carried the girl into the Oberholtzer house after the return from Hammond.

"I was in the kitchen preparing a lunch and heard a terrible groaning at the front door," she said. "That man there brought Madge in."

At this point she pointed her finger at Klenck sitting with the other defendants.

"The man told me his name was Johnson and that he came from Kokomo," Mrs. Schultz continued. "I

STREETS IN CHICAGO
AID STREET TRAFFIC

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Double decked streets within a six block zone north of the loop business district have been approved by the Chicago city council.

The plan will relieve traffic congestion and bring the six blocks into the loop territory.

The cost of this double decking including two level bridges over the Chicago river will be around $7,000,000, the council was told.

NEW PAINLEVE
CABINET HAS BEEN FORMED

CAILLAUX

THE OFFICIAL CABINET LIST IS MADE PUBLIC
TODAY

BY A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Oct. 29.—(UP)—A new Painleve cabinet was formed today. Working almost until dawn then snatching a brief rest and starting on his cabinet formation work again this morning Paul Painleve succeeded in forming a cabinet to replace the old Painleve regime which resigned Tuesday in order to shake off Finance Minister Caillaux.

In the new cabinet Painleve is premier and finance minister. Upon him now devolves the task in which the picturesque Caillaux failed, restoration of France's finances to a state of clarity and health.

Supporting him as before is Aristide Briand in the foreign ministry. The official cabinet list follows:

Paul Painleve, premier and minister of finance.
Aristide Briand, foreign affairs.
Paul Durafour, labor.
Yvon Delbois, instruction.
Chaumet, justice.
Daladier, war.
Abraham Schrameck, interior.
Jean Durand, agriculture.
Emile Borel, navy.
Piecier, colonies.
Anerio, pensions.
Daniel Vincent, commerce.
Anatole De Monzie, public works.
Bonnet, budget.

Painleve abandoned an earlier thought of again assuming the war ministry post, which he held in his first cabinet in the former ministry. To M. Edouard Daladier who held office in the Herriot regime as colonial minister, Painleve also drew from the Herriot ranks when he took M. Camille Chaumet as justice minister. He had served earlier as interior minister.

The personnel changes mean little. But the policy change that goes with formation of the new cabinet is important. The old cabinet went to rid itself of Caillaux, who fought against the capital levy as a means of righting French finances. This was demanded by the groups upon which the new cabinet relies for support, but it is generally admitted that Painleve must show prime statesmanship if he steers his new grouping through the parliamentary pitfalls.

It is almost certain that Painleve will be forced to advocate a tax on agriculture, a capital levy and he probably will not be able to avoid further inflation. All of these policies are dangerous insofar as the life of the cabinet is concerned. It may fall as a result of the combination of these plans, though politicians so far have not passed any "death sentence" upon the new cabinet.

went to Madge's room and she was lying on the bed.

"She told me twice that she was dying and seemed in terrible pain. She was in a deplorable condition, with bruises all over her cheeks, body and legs."

Whenever Gentry's name was mentioned in the testimony he sat up, rigid and rigid in his chair. Klenck remained expressionless as a statue. Stephenson was paler than usual and kept his head lowered making a pretense of taking notes. He carefully avoided catching the glance of the parents of Miss Oberholtzer.

FORTUNES MADE AND LOST IN SPUD
PRODUCING AREA

UNSEASONABLE COLD WEATHER
AND SHORT CROP SHOOT
UP PRICES

FARMERS AND DEALERS WHO
STORED CROPS ARE REAPING
SILVER HARVEST

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—(UP)—King spud has been enthroned again in the northwest.

Fortunes are being made and lost in the potato producing country of Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Dakotas.

Unseasonable cold weather on top of a short crop shot prices up more than a cent a pound wholesale in the last two weeks. Farmers and dealers who stored or buried their crop are reaping a silver harvest, while others who left them in the ground too long lost all with the freeze.

A year ago Red River Valley farmers took 35 to 40 cents a hundred pounds for their potatoes—or let them rot. Today they are getting up to $3.25 a hundred pounds for their crop.

Dealers who bought at $1.25 when potatoes were still in the field last July are now collecting $3.50 to $3.75 a hundred for them in the big city markets. Thousands of bushels are being sold daily in the big markets by dealers who figure their present margins are safer than further speculation.

A light acreage and a light yield put high prices in prospect early in the fall. Then winter arrived a month ahead of time and prices shot upwards.

H. C. Posselt, acting manager of the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange, which handles about half of the Minnesota crop, said today that growers themselves are reaping most of the benefit from the high market.

S. D. GASOLINE
WAR ENDED FOR
THE TIME BEING

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISION CLOSES STATE OWNED FILLING STATIONS

OIL WAR ARMISTICE EFFECTIVE UNTIL NEXT LEGISLATURE

Pierre, S. D., Oct. 29.—(UP)—The South Dakota gasoline war is at least temporarily ended today. Decision of the state supreme court yesterday, declaring illegal the appropriation of highway funds to carry on the business, closed state-owned filling stations and halted operations on additional facilities under construction.

There was talk around the capital of a special session of the legislature to make specific appropriations for carrying on the fight but such action was generally considered improbable. Governor Carl Gunderson is temporarily occupied as host to a conference of state executives in Sioux Falls.

The oil war armistice will probably be effective until the next regular session of the legislature. A fight is expected then for an appropriation measure to resume the state-conducted gasoline business. By the ruling of the state supreme court a specific appropriation is necessary. Diversion of highway funds for the purpose was declared unconstitutional.

Seven filling stations were ordered to discontinue sale of gasoline and lubricants immediately. Work on five new stations must be stopped. It is estimated the state has spent $16,000 of the $100,000 authorized for maintenance of the stations and added construction.

Highway Department
Plans to Keep Open
Many State Highways

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—(UP)—The Minnesota highway department has made preparations to keep more highways free from snow this winter than ever before. It was announced today.

More than 250 miles of snow fences have been placed by the state, in addition to snow fences and barriers placed by private transportation companies and individuals. The highway department will control all work on the highways this winter, it was stated, and will supervise the volunteer work of transportation

PROGRESSIVE BLOC ATTACKS MELLON PLAN

LOW SURTAX RATES PROPOSED BY MELLON IS THE TARGET

GROUP OF INDEPENDENTS DE-
CIDES TO STAND BACK OF COUZENS

BY PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Oct. 29—(UP)—An extension of hearing on the new $300,000,000 bill into next week was ordered by the house ways and means committee today to permit more witnesses to be heard.
Putting aside its plan to begin actual drafting of the bill Saturday, the committee decided to continue hearings Monday and Tuesday and begin actual work on the Bill Wednesday.
Requests for permission to plead personally for tax reductions have deluged the committee from all parts of the country.

Washington, Oct. 29—(UP)—The progressive bloc which sank the Mellon plan in the last congress again will bombard the administration tax plan, this time from the fortress of Senator James R. Couzens, Michigan, republican.
Collectively and individually, the independents in the house and the senate oppose the low Mellon surtax rates and other proposals of the secretary of the treasury.
Although their chances of again putting over their projects by a coalition with other anti-administration groups are less bright than in the previous congress, the group has decided to stand with Couzens against Mellon.

There probably will be no determined fight against the new $300,000,000 tax slashing bill in the house, because the house rules prevent extended debate and offered little protection to minorities. In the senate, however, the independents will find their ranks swelled by many of the normally regular republicans.
Several republican senators, for instance, have come out against Mellon and favor an automatic exemption for all incomes under $5,000. In the matter of publicity for income tax returns which the progressives themselves wrote into the present law their chances of success are somewhat dimmer.

CANADIANS IN ELECTION OF A NEW PARLIAMENT

Montreal, Oct. 20.—A record vote was expected today as Canadians balloted to elect a new parliament.
The government has declared a half holiday to give voters an opportunity to go to the polls.
E. L. Patenaude, conservative of Montreal, injected fireworks into the campaign in an effort to break up the solid liberal block of 65 seats in Quebec.
The big issue which it was

No More Piles

Thousands Bless Dr. Leonhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common Sense Remedy

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it's because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID.

This Doctor's treatment is internal. By experimenting for years he discovered the exact cause of piles and then went further and compounded a remedy that would remove the cause.

Dr. Leonhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay, H. P. Dunn or Johnson's Pharmacy and all druggists are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it will do as stated or money back.

On that honorable basis every sufferer should secure a package of Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID today.

THE HIT AND RUN DRIVER

WE have read of "hit and run" drivers doing their dastardly work in Duluth, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Chicago and other large cities and supposed this species of a criminal surely did not flourish in the small towns and wide open spaces. But last night one of these death riders of the night ran down, and severely injured one of our own citizens. Never slackening his terrific pace, the unknown driver sped away and left his victim crushed on the paving.

It was a cold night, 12 degrees above zero, with a northwest wind playing full strength and the man, crumpled and crushed by the car, would have frozen stiff and stark had not a resident near by heard his moans of pain.

Today the victim, Ole Elvestor, of 416 First Avenue, of our city, lies on a bed of pain in Northwestern hospital, his leg broken and possibly he has also sustained internal injuries.

This "hit and run" driver has violated several laws. The law says implicitly that care and caution must be observed in driving. If you accidentally injure a pedestrian, stop your car, give what help you can, give your name and address. The dictates of common humanity require any one to stop his car to render aid in case of injury. To "hit and run," expressed in colloquial language, is one of the most cowardly and the "dirtiest" things any motorist can do. The authorities are doing everything possible to find this driver.

LOW TEMPERATURE IS MODIFIED TODAY

CHILLING WINDS, HOWEVER, SWEEP THE TWIN CITIES AND TERRITORY

Snow fell in many sections east of Cheyenne, Wyo., and isolated points throughout the middle west reported snow storms.

The weather bureau held forth no hope of relief for this territory. Ohio, Michigan, Iowa and other states probably will be gripped in even colder temperatures. Cleveland storms caused several serious accidents.

Winter came to the south last night and gave every evidence of a prolonged stay. First snows were reported in Louisville and other parts of Kentucky and Atlanta and Asheville were visited by freezing temperatures. Strong winds of gale-like intensity preceded the drops in temperature. Only southern Florida escaped.

Freek storms played havoc in several sections of the east. In New York City a 60 mile gale swept over the city, bringing in its wake a heavy downpour of rain and hail. The temperature reached 32 degrees at 5 a. m. today with predictions of colder weather tonight.

A strong wind, sweeping in from the Atlantic coast also brought freezing temperatures to New England. The forecast in Boston for tonight was 20 degrees.

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—(UP)—The low temperature mark of yesterday, 17 degrees above zero, was slightly modified today but a chilling wind swept the Twin Cities and menacing skies indicated further snowfall before night.

Low temperatures falling below zero at some points were reported from the northwest yesterday. The cold wave is moving east and relief was predicted for Minnesota tonight.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 29.—Cold weather, which set in early this week will continue in Wisconsin for several days according to the local weather forecaster.

The mercury went down to 17 above today. Indications were that snow would fall.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 29.—Freezing temperatures descended on Madison and vicinity last night after two days of threatening snow flurries which failed to materialize into the storms which the northern and eastern parts of the state experienced. Cold, clear weather is the order of the day according to the local weather bureau.

The nation was subjected to an unseasonable chill today as one of the worst October cold waves in history descended upon virtually every section of the country.

Lowest temperatures were reported in the Dakotas, where icy air, drawn from Alaska over the Canadian Rockies dropped the mercury to 16 below zero. One Nebraska city reported a temperature of 11 below.

CHILDRENS PARTY

Sunday School Classes of St. Paul's Episcopal Church Entertained by Rev. Robert J. Long

Rev. Robert J. Long, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, gave a party on Friday afternoon and evening in the church basement for the children of the Sunday school.

The smaller children of the primary department had their party in the afternoon, between 4 and 5:30 o'clock, while the older children had theirs in the evening, between the hours of 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

Rev. Long was assisted by several of the teachers from the school, and to say that the kiddies had a big time is putting it mildly. The genial rector was the liveliest "kid" in the crowd. "When they get going, you won't be able to hear yourself think," remarked a lady who was present. "Well," answered the rector, "We don't think; we don't want to think."

The youngsters certainly enjoyed their party immensely, with merry games and music. Each was given a unique souvenir of the happy event, and all proclaimed Rev. Long a royal host.

Evangelical Missionary Society

The meeting of the Woman's Home and Foreign missionary society of the Evangelical church of North-east Brainerd will be held on Friday evening at 9 o'clock instead of Thursday evening as announced. Mrs. M. B. Congdon will be leader. The new book "Prayer and Missions" will be begun at this meeting. All members are urged to be present and visitors welcome. Meeting to be in church basement.

THREE MEN DRAW STILLWATER TERMS FOR PERJURY

St. Paul, Oct. 29.—Three men were sentenced to terms not to exceed five years in Stillwater penitentiary here late yesterday for perjury in connection with the trial of one of the trio on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Those sentenced were Otto Mandehr, 43, George Bergstrom, 39, and Charles Anderson, 37. Mandehr was defendant in the original trial. All three of the men testified at the police court trial that was Bergstrom instead of Mandehr who was driving the car when the accident occurred.

Following an investigation they were arrested for perjury and convicted. Other witnesses to the accident in which they figured testified Mandehr was the car driver.

Assault Charge Dismissed

St. Paul—Paul Goltz was dismissed yesterday when charges of assaulting Mrs. Morris Fox could not be substantiated by producing the instrument alleged to have been used. Goltz was charged with attempting to injure the woman with a pair of tailor's shears which cannot be found.

Says---Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases

Yes; it's true—the world progresses.

All you have to do nowadays to limber up that old stiff, creaky knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of miracle-working substance from a tube.

Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy.

Then read the evening newspaper and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose it "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster.

"And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "you'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease! They call this wonder-working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed, rheumatic joint or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean, stainless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, elbow, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger and for that purpose its sale, at 60 cents a tube, is immense.

Johnson's Pharmacy and the Economy Drug Co. sell dozens of tubes of it every week and druggists everywhere report a big demand.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.

THE HIT AND RUN DRIVER

We have read of "hit and run" drivers doing their dastardly work in Duluth, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Chicago and other large cities and supposed this species of a criminal surely did not flourish in the small towns and wide open spaces. But last night one of these death riders of the night ran down, and severely injured one of our own citizens. Never slackening his terrific pace, the unknown driver sped away and left his victim crushed on the paving.

It was a cold night, 12 degrees above zero, with a northwest wind playing full strength and the man, crumpled and crushed by the car, would have frozen stiff and stark had not a resident near by heard his moans of pain.

Today the victim, Ole Elvester, of 416 First Avenue, of our city, lies on a bed of pain in Northwestern hospital, his leg broken and possibly he has also sustained internal injuries.

This "hit and run" driver has violated several laws. The law says implicitly that care and caution must be observed in driving. If you accidentally injure a pedestrian, stop your car, give what help you can, give your name and address. The dictates of common humanity require any one to stop his car to render aid in case of injury. To "hit and run," expressed in colloquial language, is one of the most cowardly and the "dirtiest" things any motorist can do. The authorities are doing everything possible to find this driver.

LOW TEMPERATURE IS MODIFIED TODAY

CHILLING WINDS, HOWEVER, SWEEP THE TWIN CITIES AND TERRITORY

Snow fell in many sections east of Cheyenne, Wyo., and isolated points throughout the middle west reported snow storms.

The weather bureau held forth no hope of relief for this territory. Ohio, Michigan, Iowa and other states probably will be gripped in even colder temperatures. Cleveland storms caused several serious accidents.

Winter came to the south last night and gave every evidence of a prolonged stay. First snows were reported in Louisville and other parts of Kentucky and Atlanta and Asheville were visited by freezing temperatures. Strong winds of gale-like intensity preceded the drops in temperature. Only southern Florida escaped.

Freak storms played havoc in several sections of the east. In New York City a 60 mile gale swept over the city, bringing in its wake a heavy downpour of rain and hail. The temperature reached 32 degrees at 5 a. m. today with predictions of colder weather tonight.

ARMY STARTS OFFENSIVE AGAINST COL. MITCHELL

intently interested and fatigued by the arguments.

Mrs. Mitchell with her arm almost continually around her husband's chair, fixed her eyes on each speaker. As the argument waxed warm General Howes ordered a recess until 2 o'clock the lunch hour having long since passed.

Court convened for the afternoon session promptly at the scheduled hour and Col. Moreland resumed talking, still defending the army's course in publishing charges against Col. Mitchell without first having them investigated by Mitchell's immediate superior officer.

Moreland harped on the fact that this court martial was ordered by President Coolidge obviating certain routine proceedings and he contended that everything was regular. Col. Herbert A. White, Mitchell's military counsel, then rose and began his first real effort in behalf of the "Flying Colonel."

"I have understood Colonel Moreland to say that he considers this case as hardly covered under military law or the articles of war," he said. "He seems to convey that it is a case of omission because the president ordered the court martial."

White cited the 70th article of war, which provides that all charges against officers or enlisted men must be "thoroughly and impartially" investigated before being referred to trial.

"The 70th article of war," said White, "specifically states that the truth of the charges must be investigated before a court martial is ordered."

REJECTS PROPOSAL THAT IT LACKED JURISDICTION

Washington, Oct. 29.—(UP)—The army court martial trying Colonel Wm. Mitchell today rejected his contention that it lacked jurisdiction.

After hearing arguments for and against the defense's challenge the court at a 10-minute secret session sided with the government and ordered the trial to proceed.

Mitchell and his counsel had contended that constitutional guarantees of free speech safeguarded army officers in criticizing their superiors. Army prosecutors refuted the argument saying discipline in the army would be impossible if such were the case.

Major General Howes, president of the court, announced the decision. The court took up the eight specifications of the charges one by one and voted on the jurisdiction question in connection with each.

The members filed in and out of the room to announce their decision on each charge.

Milwaukee, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Rev. Edward Thomas, colored minister, who was acquitted of the murder of Lawrence Buchholz by a municipal jury here last night was today arraigned in district court on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of Jennings Siegfried. The case was set for trial Nov. 19 and bail fixed at $1,500.

CONFISCATION OF $2,000,000 WORTH OF LIQUOR ORDERED

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Confiscation of more than $2,000,000 worth of liquor that has accumulated in the government warehouse here was ordered today by Federal Judge George A. Carpen.

The order was issued upon request of the district attorney's office and United States Marshall Palmer E. Anderson immediately dispatched a squad to follow out the court's order.

All stills that have been seized in liquor raids and which have been stored in the warehouse were ordered destroyed but other apparatus, including press, barrels and bottles, were ordered sold at the best possible price.

A portion of the liquor was ordered saved for use by the army hospitals and another portion was ordered removed to the government lighthouse at Milwaukee.

RESULTS

St. Cloud, Minn., Oct. 29.—(UP)—Improvement of Lake George, a natural lake situated in the heart of St. Cloud, will be financed despite defeat of a proposed $100,000 bond issue for the purpose in yesterday's election, it was announced today.

The five-eighths majority necessary to authorize the issue was lost by 180 votes. There were 1,744 for the improvement and 1,430 against. With a majority of voters for the project the city government will take steps to carry out the improvements by a different method, it was said.

Increase of the salaries of city commissioners from $1,500 to $2,500

a year, was defeated. Change in ward boundaries which have existed since 1893 was carried by popular vote.

Then Dad approved Son's Choice

She was pretty—Bob's fiancée—Dad admitted. But, could she cook? * * *

Sweet and fresh as a morning rose, she greeted Bob's folks when they came to Sunday dinner.

Such a meal! Good and substantial, the kind Dad liked—tender roast pork, well-browned potatoes, dressing, ruddy baked apples, and pie. One whiff, and he was completely won over.

"How did you do it?" asked Bob's mother admiringly.

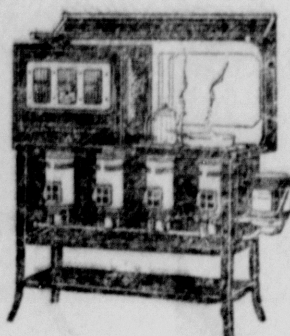

"It was easy," she replied. "I cooked the whole meal, except the salad and tea, in my Perfection Oven. I did not have to stand over a hot stove stirring and mixing. And I saved fuel, too. I'm glad you like it."

"What do you think of her?" Bob asked triumphantly, turning to his Dad.

"Great!" responded his father enthusiastically. * * *

Try a Perfection oven-cooked meal on your family. For best results use Perfection Ovens on Perfection Stoves.

No heat escapes, as the glass door is tightly closed at the top by a patented feature. And perfect air circulation, necessary for good baking, is assured by 108 vent holes. Ask any dealer for a demonstration of Perfection Cook Stoves and Ovens.

intently interested and fatigued by the arguments.

Mrs. Mitchell with her arm almost continually around her husband's chair, fixed her eyes on each speaker. As the argument waxed warm General Howes ordered a recess until 2 o'clock the lunch hour having long since passed.

Court convened for the afternoon session promptly at the scheduled hour and Col. Moreland resumed talking, still defending the army's course in publishing charges against Col. Mitchell without first having them investigated by Mitchell's immediate superior officer.

Moreland harped on the fact that this court martial was ordered by President Coolidge obviating certain routine proceedings and he contended that everything was regular. Col. Herbert A. White, Mitchell's military counsel, then rose and began his first real effort in behalf of the "Flying Colonel."

"I have understood Colonel Moreland to say that he considers this case as hardly covered under military law or the articles of war," he said. "He seems to convey that it is a case of omission because the president ordered the court martial."

White cited the 70th article of war, which provides that all charges against officers or enlisted men must be "thoroughly and impartially" investigated before being referred to trial.

"The 70th article of war," said White, "specifically states that the truth of the charges must be investigated before a court martial is ordered."

REJECTS PROPOSAL THAT IT LACKED JURISDICTION

Washington, Oct. 29.—(UP)—The army court martial trying Colonel Wm. Mitchell today rejected his contention that it lacked jurisdiction.

After hearing arguments for and against the defense's challenge the court at a 10-minute secret session sided with the government and ordered the trial to proceed.

Mitchell and his counsel had contended that constitutional guarantees of free speech safeguarded army officers in criticizing their superiors. Army prosecutors refuted the argument saying discipline in the army would be impossible if such were the case.

Major General Howes, president of the court, announced the decision. The court took up the eight specifications of the charges one by one and voted on the jurisdiction question in connection with each.

The members filed in and out of the room to announce their decision on each charge.

Milwaukee, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Rev. Edward Thomas, colored minister, who was acquitted of the murder of Lawrence Buchholz by a municipal jury here last night was today arraigned in district court on a charge of assault with intent to kill in connection with the shooting of Jennings Siegfried. The case was set for trial Nov. 19 and bail fixed at $1,500.

CONFISCATION OF $2,000,000 WORTH OF LIQUOR ORDERED

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Confiscation of more than $2,000,000 worth of liquor that has accumulated in the government warehouse here was ordered today by Federal Judge George A. Carpen.

The order was issued upon request of the district attorney's office and United States Marshall Palmer E. Anderson immediately dispatched a squad to follow out the court's order.

All stills that have been seized in liquor raids and which have been stored in the warehouse were ordered destroyed but other apparatus, including press, barrels and bottles, were ordered sold at the best possible price.

A portion of the liquor was ordered saved for use by the army hospitals and another portion was ordered removed to the government lighthouse at Milwaukee.

RESULTS

St. Cloud, Minn., Oct. 29.—(UP)—Improvement of Lake George, a natural lake situated in the heart of St. Cloud, will be financed despite defeat of a proposed $100,000 bond issue for the purpose in yesterday's election, it was announced today.

The five-eighths majority necessary to authorize the issue was lost by 180 votes. There were 1,744 for the improvement and 1,430 against. With a majority of voters for the project the city government will take steps to carry out the improvement by a different method, it was said.

Increase of the salaries of city commissioners from $1,500 to $2,500

a year, was defeated. Change in ward boundaries which have existed since 1893 was carried by popular vote.

She was pretty—Bob's fiancée—Dad admitted. But, could she cook? * * *

Sweet and fresh as a morning rose, she greeted Bob's folks when they came to Sunday dinner.

Such a meal! Good and substantial, the kind Dad liked—tender roast pork, well-browned potatoes, dressing, ruddy baked apples, and pie. One whiff, and he was completely won over.

"How did you do it?" asked Bob's mother admiringly.

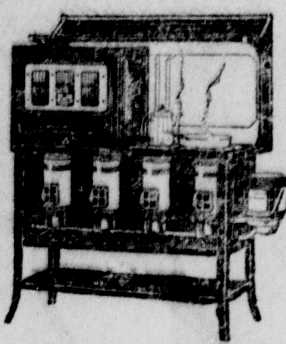

"It was easy," she replied. "I cooked the whole meal, except the salad and tea, in my Perfection Oven. I did not have to stand over a hot stove stirring and mixing. And I saved fuel, too. I'm glad you like it."

"What do you think of her?" Bob asked triumphantly, turning to his Dad.

"Great!" responded his father enthusiastically. * * *

Try a Perfection oven-cooked meal on your family. For best results use Perfection Ovens on Perfection Stoves.

JIM O'CONNELL SOUGHT HOME RUN BATS

WAS MADE THE
GOAT BY GIANT
BASEBALL TEAM

THE LAD CONSIDERED GREEN
YOUNGSTER, AND CASE MAY BE REOPENED

WAS BANISHED FROM LEAGUE
BECAUSE HEINIE SAND MATTER

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Oct. 29.—(UP)—Commissioner Landis, head of baseball, will be asked at the annual winter meetings of the big leagues to reconsider the case of Jimmy O'Connell, the young former Giant outfielder, who was placed on the ineligible list after the 1924 scandal.
The movement is not being pushed actively by anyone connected with the New York club or anyone with any particular sympathy for the former champions.
Most of the National league officials and practically every player in the two big leagues feel that O'Connell acted innocently if he had any part in the attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, the Philadelphia shortstop for not "bearing down" in one of the last games of the 1924 season against the Giants. They point out also that the New York criminal authorities failed to get a case against the California youngster and the investigation of Commissioner Landis showed that he had acted innocently and had been made the goat.
"The boy was just a green, innocent youngster," a prominent National league man said today. "He would do anything he was told and he was made the goat for countless practical jokes.

"I know that at one time he was sent to the club house for couple of left handed bats and he tried to find them.
"Another time in the eighth inning of a tight game in which the Giants were playing, one of the regulars sent him to the club house for the home run bats and he returned with an armful.
"That boy has been given a big enough dose for what he was charged with doing and they ought to take him back."

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

Back to the Farm, Says Johnson
New York.—"I'm through with the ring forever and I'm going back to the farm," Floyd Johnson, Iowa heavyweight, said when told that the New Jersey Boxing commission had suspended him for life for an unsatisfactory contest with Harry Wills. "Even though I didn't go a round with Wills, I don't think he is a great fighter. He couldn't handle Dempsey like he handled me and I think that Dempsey would knock him out in a round."

Jarvis Wins Over Breslin
New York.—Ernie Jarvis, British flyweight, won a 10 round decision from Johnny Breslin, New York. Jarvis punished Breslin with a body attack and had a clear margin of points at the finish.

Mandell Hurts His Hands
Milwaukee.—On account of Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., suffering an injury to one of his hands, his scheduled fight with Harry Kahn, Milwaukee, here tomorrow night has been called off.

MANY WILD DUCKS IN THE BRAINERD REGION

E. H. PERRY, ARDENT SPORTS-MEN, SAYS LAKES ARE FULL OF DUCKS

HUNTERS EVERYWHERE ARE REPORTING EXCEPTIONAL
SUCCESS

"I have never seen so many wild ducks since I've been in Brainerd as I have this season at nearby lakes," said E. H. Perry, of the Perry Hardware Company, who is an ardent sportsman and very much interested in duck hunting.

"Every lake that I have visited this season has had its quota of ducks," continued Mr. Perry, "and hunters are reporting exceptionally good success, with no one complaining about poor luck."

Mr. Perry returned Wednesday evening from a short hunting trip with friends, Jack Martin, Ansgar Anderson, Lon Fields, Keith Bailey and Dr. Bliss, all of Pine River, and the party totaled 41 ducks in one shoot. This was the smallest bag of seven different parties that were seen, says Mr. Perry, one group of hunters bringing in 127 ducks. Mr. Perry and his companions were at Lizzie and Jail lakes, as were several other parties from Brainerd.

One hunter reported that he had taken nine fine mallards on the Crow Wing river Wednesday, proving that all of the ducks are not on the lakes alone.

Continued cold weather will bring down the balance of the northern flocks, which have only just started, said Mr. Perry, who with other local sportsmen are very much delighted

PIRATES EXPECT NEXT THREE PENNANTS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 29.—"That's a team that looks good enough to win about three more pennants," John A. Heydler, president of the National league, said after the world's series in discussing the Pittsburgh Pirates.

His opinion is shared by many baseball officials, players and fans, and it looks as if Bill McKetchnie has something with which he can shoot at John McGraw's record or four straight pennants.

When McGraw failed to win his fifth championship this year it was thought that it would be years before any manager would have a team good enough to go after his record, but the Pirates seem to have everything that a great team should have and they look to have much more class than the Giants had when they were making their record.

The Pirates are a young ball club with plenty of class and, above all, they are equipped with plenty of heart, a courage they were said at one time to lack.

Their is no vital weakness on the club. It has the best infield in the league, a great outfield and pitching above the average. They could use a faster and less loquacious catcher than "Oil" Smith, but Johnny Gooch is coming along fast.

Pie Traynor, Glenn Wright and Eddie Moore, the left side of the infield are all youngsters and they are just arriving.

Traynor is the best third baseman in baseball. Wright is just arriving and there are many smart baseball men of the opinion that he will develop into one of the greatest shortstops of all time. Moore is just a youngster and he has not reached the top of his form.

Charley Grantham was no sensation as a first baseman during the season or in the world's series, but he did a good job of it considering that it was his first season on first base. There is no vital weakness there, however, as long as that wise old war-horse, Stuffy McInnis is around, ready for duty.

It was the presence of Stuffy McInnis on first base, as much as anything else, that snapped the Pirates out of their trance in the late games of the world's series and enabled the club to come from behind and win the series when hope had almost been abandoned.

Clyde Barnhart, in left field, is a star. He is young and he has just arrived at his real game. Cuyler, in right field, is a youngster and he is now one of the finest players in the game. Max Carey, in centerfield, is no infant, but he is the smartest player on the team and one of the greatest in the game.

There were so many spectacular features to attract attention in the world's series that the brilliant work of Carey did not get the credit that it deserved.

with the exceptional shooting afforded this season.

1 There is only one Matched-Unit Radio—and that is manufactured by Stewart-Warner. Instruments, Tubes and Reproducers have been designed to function together in perfect unison. You must have matched radio units if you are to have the most efficient radio reception. Ask any expert. He will tell you that it is only by matching the units the Stewart-Warner way that most efficient reception can be obtained. Wonderful tone quality—sharp selectivity—tremendous range and volume—you will find them in Stewart-Warner Matched-Unit Radio.

2 As time passes there will be fewer makes of radio on the market than there are now. Today there are so many radios and so many exaggerated claims that you may be somewhat confused as to just what make is the one for you. The safe and sure way to buy a radio is by the name and reputation of the manufacturer. The Stewart-Warner name is known the world over as a symbol for quality merchandise. Over ten million motor cars carrying Stewart-Warner equipment are a tribute to the reputation of this institution. Purchasers of Stewart-Warner Radio are certain that the manufacturer will still be doing business, and giving service, five—ten—fifty years from now.

3 Finally, and of utmost importance—Stewart-Warner Matched-Unit Radio is sold only by authorized dealers—each of whom is pledged to give you 100 per cent service on every Stewart-Warner Radio product.

Stewart-Warner Radio cannot be purchased at drug stores, tobacco shops and other outlets that cannot possibly give technical advice or service to the buyer.

Stewart-Warner dealers were selected on their ability to properly demonstrate a radio before its purchase and properly service it after it is sold.

A reliable manufacturer—reliable merchandise—reliable dealers. After all, isn't that the basis for YOUR RADIO SATISFACTION?

"HIT AND RUN" CAR DRIVER AT WORK

Ole Elvester is Victim of Accident
When Struck and Dragged 45
Feet Wednesday Night

WHILE CROSSING THIRD AVE.

Suffers Broken Leg, With the End of Bone Forced Through the Skin; Internally Hurt

Ole Elvester, of 436 First avenue, Northeast, was a victim Wednesday evening of a "hit and run" motorist, the first in Brainerd for some little time, who struck his victim, dragged him about 45 feet, and went on without stopping. Mr. Elvester is at Northwestern hospital with his leg broken, his face bruised, and it is feared with serious internal injuries.

The accident occurred between 7.30 and 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the intersection of F street and Third avenue, Northeast. Mr. Elvester was crossing Third avenue from the west side of the street, it is said, bound for the E. L. Guin store on the opposite corner. He was practically across the street, within about four feet of the sidewalk when the car coming from the south, struck him and dragged him, according to witnesses, about 45 feet north of the street intersection. In some way Mr. Elvester was dropped and the car went on its way without slackening speed and as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened.

Mr. Guin from his store heard the injured man's groans and went out to give assistance. Louis Imgrund and several other men were also on the scene of the accident at about the same time. They carried Mr. Elvester into the Guin store and called Dr. Hermanson and the chief of police, also Mayor George A. Cain. All arrived within a few minutes, and after giving first aid to Mr. Elvester, took him to the hospital.

It was found that his leg was broken and the end of the bone forced through the skin. The injured man complained of pains about his ribs when picked up, which led the doctor to believe that there are internal injuries. At Northwestern hospital Thursday morning it was reported that he had spent a good night and was resting well the next morning.

The mayor and police state that they will make every effort to find the driver of the car and bring him to justice, although this will be a difficult matter since no one was close enough to the scene of the accident to identify either the driver or the car.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

St. Mary's Guild of Episcopal Church
Enjoys Games And Supper

St. Mary's Guild of the Episcopal church gave a Halloween party in the basement of the church last night.

The basement was appropriately decorated in orange and black, with plenty of black cats and witches.

The evening was spent in games, after which parcels were passed around each parcel containing something funny for the bearer to wear.

Surprise packages were then sold by number and the guests were delighted upon opening them to find dainty and useful gifts. It was a surprise game, indeed, for some of the men got aprons and pearl beads, while some of the women got ash trays and sox.

And last, but, of course, not least, there was a regular Halloween supper served cafeteria style and the guests departed hoping the committee would soon arrange another party.

Farewell Party

A farewell party was held at the Phil Tribby home on Monday evening, honoring Mrs. Charles Hill, who is leaving for Minneapolis.

The evening was spent in dancing, cards and other games, and was closed with delicious refreshments.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leonard, and daughter Violet, Mrs. Jack Hill and daughter Mamie, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Koepfel and son, Joe and daughters Irene Magdaline, Lucille and Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ege, Mr. and Mrs. George Austin, Miss Mayo, Miss Peitz, Miss Anna Betzold, Miss Carlson, Clarence Carlson, William Betzold, Mrs. Freeman Dunbar, Miss Vannie, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hustonen.

Greer-Hoerner

William J. Greer and Miss Helen Hoerner were united in marriage on last Saturday, October 24th, at the parsonage of St. Clara Catholic church, Chicago.

The bride is well known in Brainerd, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoerner. She was born and raised in this city and has a large circle of friends here. She attended the local public schools and is a graduate of the high school. For the past three years she has been employed by the government, two years of which were spent in Washington, D. C., and one year in Minneapolis.

The groom is a native of Chicago, where he is head of a large corporation, and where his newlyweds will make their future home.

Two Litters of Pigs Thrive

Farmington—Two litters of pigs weighing more than two tons each have been raised in Dakota county, W. D. Watson, county agent, announced. Clarence Kraft and George Conzimus are the two farmers who entered pigs in the "ton litter" contest and found their animals broke all records by attaining aggregate weight of more than two tons in the allotted 180 day time.

ROTARY CLUB VISITS STAPLES

Joint or Inter-City Meeting Held by Brainerd-Staples
Clubs

JOHN F. WOODHEAD PRESIDES

Staples Club Invited to Visit Brainerd And Will do so in Near Future

Brainerd Rotary, 27 members, visited Staples Rotary on Monday evening and were royally entertained by the 18 members of the Staples club present. The Staples club meets at the Congregational church and the ladies who serve their dinners distinguished themselves as usual. In fact, it explained why so many Brainerd Rotarians are glad to make a 60 mile round trip Brainerd to Staples, to make up lost attendance and eat one of their famous meals.

President John F. Woodhead of Brainerd club presided. The concert band of Frank Johnson went through its usual performance, but transplanting on foreign soil did not appear to improve the music any.

The address of the evening was made by H. F. Michael, first president of Brainerd Rotary, and affectionately referred to by President Woodhead as being the Paul Harris of the Brainerd club. Mr. Michael sketched in clear colors some of the things done and sought to be done by the Brainerd club, related various experiences and offered sage advice to the Staples club, which was organized with the aid of Brainerd Rotarians.

A response was given by President Richard N. Gardner of Staples club, who said the club was pleased to accept the invitation to visit Brainerd club, that they would attend 100 per cent and would present a program carrying musical numbers too.

Tuesday's Meeting

At Tuesday's meeting of Brainerd Rotary club, business methods were discussed and H. F. Michael, chairman of that committee, had arranged a short program.

Dr. Karl H. Hoorn spoke of the benefits derived from membership in the Minnesota State Dental Association, and referred to ethics of the dentists.

William E. Haydon, who attended the National Ice Cream Makers convention at Detroit, spoke of trade ethics of the ice cream makers. He brought out the point that the mental attitude of a man had much to do with the success of his business.

O. A. Peterson spoke of his trade association in the Retail Clothier and Furnisher Association and its code of ethics. He dwelt also on competition of retailers and itinerant merchants. The speaker's men's ethics contain strong paragraphs standing for truth in advertising, and truth in labels.

Joseph Cibazar of the Brainerd Bottling works, recently elected a vice president of the state association of bottlers, told of the ethics of his trade. They believe in using good materials, in conforming to all pure food laws, and other regulations, in using their own bottles, etc. Mr. Cibazar also holds membership in the American Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages association and the Coca Cola Bottlers association. There are 154 bottlers in the state of which 57 belong to the state association. All, however, hold membership in the national association.

The point brought out in the recital of all these various ethics is that proper service to the public is being stressed.

STOCKS REMAIN FIRM

New York, Oct. 29.—Virtual assurance that the local discount charge would be maintained at 3½ per cent was afforded before today's opening in cable advices that the Bank of England rate was left unchanged at 4 per cent. Because of the close harmony now prevailing between financial America and the British monetary authorities, it was taken for granted that the directors of the Federal Reserve bank of New York would continue the existing order.

This belief left the economic situation without a cloud on the immediate horizon, a state of affairs which was reflected in further manifestations of confidence in stock exchange prices. Buying of an impressive character was strongly in evidence and substantial advances were recorded in the number of respective stocks.

Motor shares were still in principal point of interest, with General Motors, Chrysler, Studebaker, Packard and Pierce Arrow in new high ground for the current bull market. But the trading showed a tendency to give increasing favor to oils, rails and other representative groups recently neglected.

The market closed irregular.

CHRYSLER MOTOR CO. STOCKS

New York, Oct. 29.—(UP)—The net income of the Chrysler Motor company, whose stock has been making sensational advances on the stock market for the third quarter of 1925, was nearly double that of the preceding quarter, according to the earnings statement made public today.

Net income for the last three months was $8,078,286 against $4,689,000 in the preceding quarter. Net income for the nine months was $16,275,285 against $2,296,094 for the corresponding period last year.

The directors, however, declared only the regular quarterly dividend of $2.

GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS IMPROVE

Chicago, Oct. 29.—General business conditions during September showed a marked seasonal increase over August according to the monthly report of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, issued today.

Distribution of wholesale goods was seasonally larger. All five commodity groups covered in the survey showed expansion. Seventeen firms reported decreased business volume. Only drugs last month showed a gain over the corresponding period of 1924.

Accounts outstanding increased despite heavy collections. All groups September 30 showed amounts on their books in excess of August 31.

Department store reports reflected the usual seasonal developments, sales gain, added stock, and heavier collections. Sixty-two stores registered gains while 28 showed declines.

More than 60 per cent of the firms in the survey showed a gain of 5.64 per cent.

Savings deposits registered a slight increase, 194 banks reported 0.2 per cent heavier deposits. Ninety banks registered declines. Illinois and Iowa averaged the only decreases—0.2 per cent.

SAFE MILK!

Means Only One Kind--

Pasteurized

THE MOST MODERN METHOD OF ELIMINATING POSSIBLE GERMS

Man's Best Food

Can be made Man's Safest Food—and is being made that way right here—every day—by

Pasteurization

Pasteurization does not in any way impair the food value. It does cut the germ contents and proper pasteurization makes milk safe.

Is not the pasteurizing of milk worth looking into?

How Milk Is Pasteurized

It is first sampled and graded for TASTE and QUALITY; then comes the sediment test—the acidity test and is then pumped into pasteurizing vats where it is heated to 145 degrees, held 30 minutes—cooled in the vat to 120 degrees, then pumped back over airtight and cooled to 34 degrees, put through automatic bottler and capper and is ready for your table.

More Facts You Should Know

Pasteurization of milk is under the supervision of State as well as City authorities—every one who handles it is required to have a certificate of health—this method of purifying milk is endorsed by such famous doctors as the Mayo Brothers, large city health authorities, school heads, hospital heads and doctors everywhere. Pasteurization of milk takes nothing from the food content of good milk—it only adds a safeguard to its use in raw form.
